Leading positive transformation

Student challenge

Final: Wednesday, 29 th October 2025

The global economy demands a transformation of Europe's production model. Sustainable reindustrialization, together with the principles of Industry 5.0, should drive the path forward. By combining advanced technologies with sustainability, this new paradigm promotes a human-centred, resilient, and circular economy while strengthening Europe's competitiveness.

> What is your vision for reindustrializing Europe in a way that drives technological innovation, secures production capability and availability of critical products, and ensures efficient, sustainable, and inclusive production?

How can Industry 5.0 help create high-quality jobs, enhance supply chain resilience, and foster collaboration between governments, businesses, and universities?

A robust reindustrialization strategy is essential for building a sustainable, inclusive, innovative and competitive industrial landscape for Europe. The future starts with you!
